Workplace health services by Kaiser On-the-Job[®]

OREGON AND WASHINGTON

EXPERTS IN TREATING

workplace illness and injury

65 YEARS OF WORKPLACE HEALTH

We started out 65 years ago, providing prepaid health care to workers building the Grand Coulee Dam. During World War II, we cared for shipbuilders up and down the West Coast. After the war, we evolved into the comprehensive health plan that you know today.

But we never forgot our roots. We were one of the first managed care organizations (MCOs) licensed under Oregon law. We're dedicated to keeping your people healthy and productive.

SEVEN LOCATIONS SPECIALIZING IN WORKERS' COMPENSATION CARE

Anything can happen in the workplace. That's why it takes a special kind of doctor to treat workplace injuries and illnesses. In fact, the American Medical Association has a special board to certify specialists in workplace health. Kaiser On-the-Job® has more board-certified occupational health specialists than any other practice in Oregon.

Your workers can get care at any of our seven occupational health locations across the region. Most locations are a part of a medical office, complete with:

- Board-certified occupational health specialists.
- Physical and occupational therapy departments.
- X-ray and laboratory departments.
- A pharmacy.

TREATING EVERYONE FOR WORKPLACE INJURIES AND ACCIDENTS

Kaiser On-the-Job treats anyone who needs care for a work-related injury or illness. Your employees don't have to be members of one of our health plans to get care.

If a worker is a member, we'll have an electronic record of his or her medical history. That can give us a head start on a treatment plan.

RETURN TO WORK

starts here

SEEING A RECOVERED CO-WORKER BACK ON THE JOB BOOSTS MORALE AND PRODUCTIVITY

A quick return shows that you take care of your people. It shows that you have a plan to get them back on their feet. It shows that your concern is real.

That's the value of Kaiser On-the-Job.

INTEGRATED CARE

By working as a team, we avoid the delays that prolong recovery. Everyone at our occupational health locations uses the same computerized system to share information. Doctors don't have to wait on X-rays — they're available online. Therapists don't have to wait on doctors' orders — they're in the patient's file. Everyone has the information needed to do the job.

WE UNDERSTAND WORKERS' COMPENSATION — AND EMPLOYERS

On request, we will notify you within 24 hours whenever an employee's work status changes.

We'll make certain you and your workers' compensation administrator are kept up to date. We'll also fill out and file all the appropriate paperwork.

WORKING THEIR WAY BACK

Even before workers are back to full strength, they may be able to return to the job on a modified work status.

Modified work can help your people heal quicker. It restores confidence by showing them their contribution still matters. It keeps them connected to the workplace and to co-workers. And it gives them something positive to focus on.
